Body is a Leased House
- Acharya Dr. Harish Chandra, Ved-Ratna
Humans are a bundle of body, mind and soul. The soul is our true identity, the inherent source of consciousness – the ‘I’. It is fair to say that we have received the body on lease as we rent a house in a new city we move in.
Mind is a bit closer instrument similar to the suitcase we came with to live in a new rented house. It is expected from us to well maintain the house. The landlord (God) ensures that all vital forces make it habitable, called Praana. It is our duty to provide adequate supplies of air, water and food to the body. Furthermore, we need clothes, shelter, and a host of other things to protect it from the vagaries of nature. However, we should not forget that we are responsible for the body's proper hygiene, upkeep and health. We should not get into tobacco, alcohol, and other drugs that are said to reduce the lifespan, the lease period for the house. Remember that the lease "agreement" has an unusual exit clause. We will be asked to vacate the body without any notice. As long as we occupy it, let us make good use of it for some higher purpose that others remember us for our deeds.

Arya Samaj in the Community
Our very own Acharya Harishji has been busy delivering the message of Hinduism around the city of Houston.

- The students of "Global Hinduism" at the University of Houston had the pleasure of hearing a lecture on "A Spiritual Perspective of Hinduism" on April 7.
- Anyone interested in learning meditation should click on http://www.meetup.com/Patajali-Yoga-Meditation-Houston-Meetup/ and attend the next PM100 6-week course. As of April, membership is more than 200 strong.
AYM

After returning from the fun-filled campout on March 27, AYM youths focused on completing their book review projects. On April 10, over 25 AYM youths presented their books to AYM youths and mentors. It was a great experience for the audience who learned topics of varying fields - ranging from religion, science, sports, politics, to philosophy.

On April 24, AYM youths assembled again to run the annual car wash and fund raising event. Around 20 youths washed 45 cars, raising around $1000.

Thanks to the AYM convener Sanjay Ahujaji for making it another busy but exciting year for the AYM youths. They are now working for their final exams and looking forward to the graduation ceremony.
